HELLMAN, HAAS & CO., Forwarding & Commission

To-day being set apart by the National and State Executives as a day of thanksgiving and prayer; and whereas, as we cannot conveniently attend to those duties and get out a paper; and whereas, we must omit one or the other; therefore, be it resolved, that in order to give the employees of the HERALD office an opportunity to attend one or more of the score of turkey dinners to which each one is invited, no paper will be issued from this office on Friday morning. We trust that our friends and patrons will enjoy their good cheer to-day and hope that one and all may live to see the annual return of many more Thanksgiving days, on each of which they may be as prosperous and happy as the present.

In San Francisco a movement is just inaugurated for the suppression of necromancing or fortune telling. The argument used against the business is that it deceives, dupes and misleads people, often causing distress and sometimes suicide. If the feeling against these frauds and deceivers should extend to Los Angeles it would be unfortunate for that price of deluders—the Evening Express. Its sole business appears to be confined to slandering, disseminating and making false predictions. It will be a sorry day for the Express and humbug fortune tellers and slander-dealing, mischief-making old crones are tabooed by public opinion.

Something for Farmers.

Farmers have brought to the HERALD office potatoes weighing twelve pounds each and we have written column after column setting forth the great facility and ease with which first-class butter may be manufactured in this valley, yet on enquiry among our grocery firms and produce dealers we find that a large proportion of the potatoes consumed in this city and a great deal of the butter purchased here is brought down from San Francisco. This is an unsatisfactory showing and is far from creditable to our rich valley or complimentary to our farmers. No soil in the world will produce larger, better or a greater number of tons to the acre of potatoes than that of Los Angeles valley. In place of drawing our supply of this common article of food from other localities, we should export annually thousands of tons. We presume that our supply of potatoes is not sufficient to meet the demand. It has been demonstrated that a few acres of Los Angeles valley soil seeded to alfalfa will support a large dairy, yet we find that in place of sending tons of butter every month to San Francisco we are actually compelled to draw a portion of our supply from that place. We call the attention of persons desirous of establishing a good business to these facts. Farmers have shown that the soil will grow immense potatoes. The next thing to do is to grow some of them. The valley is well adapted to the dairy business; let us at least manufacture the butter we consume.

A Contemplated Injury.

We hear it stated that in case of the election of Mr. TIFFANY or SARGENT the Water Company will demand the repeal of the ordinance or resolution granting Mr. BEAUDRY the right to lay down pipes and convey water upon the hill lands. This would be a manifest injustice to Mr. BEAUDRY who is expending a large sum in the work by which, according to the Express, he will add millions of dollars to the taxable property of the city, but to a large number of our citizens—all of them in fact to a certain extent for by reducing the value of the hill land property they increase the rate of taxation on other property. Mr. BEAUDRY simply obtained from the city the permission to convey water to a point on which the Water Company refused to place it. He neither asked nor obtained an exclusive franchise and though he is now conducting water to all parts of the high lands, he is willing the company should lay down pipes by the side of his own and sell or give away water all over the hills. If the company are able to elect their Mayor and Councilmen, they will seek to destroy all that Mr. BEAUDRY has done and by so doing render almost worthless a large amount of property which is now valuable. It rests with our citizens to call down upon themselves or avert this damaging blow.

A Railroad or a Village.

We have again and again warned our people of the danger to which they are exposing themselves by tardiness and indifference concerning the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. We have repeatedly pointed to the fact that those interested are making strenuous efforts to turn the trade which now passes through the city over the San Joaquin Valley Railroad and across the mountains from near Bakersfield. Their exertions are beginning to bear fruit and unless our citizens bestir themselves, the trade with Panamint, Cerro Gordo and all the Inyo county mines will be lost to us forever. The following from the Express of last evening is in accord with what the HERALD has heretofore said and is a clear statement of the case:

A glance at the map will show that we are on the eve of a very heavy blow unless we do something ourselves to avert it. The Southern Pacific Company are giving unmistakable signs of a determination to push their road from Bakersfield so as to control the Panamint and Cerro Gordo trade. If they reach Tehachas before we have done anything to push out the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad, they will be masters of the situation, and we may set quietly down and chew our end of disappointment. But if our people are wise enough to understand that the future of this city depends on speedy action, they will check the Southern Pacific Company and hold the reins over a trade which will exert material influence upon our future. There are but two considerations before the people in this matter. One is, build our road and prosper; the other, neglect to do so and sink back into provincial insignificance. Efforts ought to be made to get together a mass meeting of our people so that the situation may be properly considered.

Their Purpose.

EDITOR HERALD: As the Water Company already claim to hold six acres of the city's land on Fort Hill, and, as stated in the Council a few days ago, they only intend to occupy one half acre of that which they reserve, what do they propose to do with the remainder and the other lot they are now trying to secure?

RESIDENT.

Los Angeles, Nov. 25, 1874.
We can only answer our correspondent by assumption. It is plain to every intelligent person that the company do not want the lot they are asking for for reservoir purposes. They will probably place a small reservoir on the summit of the hill, but as it will cover an area of less than a half acre they will, if they obtain the other lot, have something over six acres in a body. They claim to hold a thirty years' lease on this land, and if they can make their claim stand, the rent-ge of the land will amount to something handsome. Each of the six acres may be divided into six building lots, and each lot is worth and the city could to-day sell it for three hundred dollars. This makes the six acres of the city's land now held by the Water Company worth ten thousand eight hundred dollars. The company probably intend to sub-lease these lots for the term of twenty-eight years—the time they claim their lease has yet to run—to parties who will build upon them. Or they may build houses themselves and increase their income by a large rental. This may be the object of the company in holding the six acres and in getting as many more lots as they can induce the Council to give them.

THE meeting at Stearns' Hall on Tuesday night, which the Express expected and hoped would nominate Mr. TIFFANY for Mayor, turned out to be CRISTIAN and they nominated that gentleman by acclamation. The result was so annoying to our little cotemporary that it seeks consolation by asserting that the meeting was called in support of the People's Ticket. The little organ is in a bad way.

Ben Butler's Successor.

EDITOR HERALD: In addition to the article in Sunday's HERALD, concerning "The man who bottled Butler," if I think your readers would like to know something of him personally. I happen to have had the pleasure of Mr. Thompson's acquaintance some years since. He appears to me, as nearly Mr. Butler's opposite as it is possible to be, an honest straightforward man, meaning what he says, and saying what he means. While he would not be easily deceived by a knave, he seems to bear the utmost kindness of feeling towards every one, even towards his opponents. Those who know him best like him best.

If the estimate held of him by the somewhat unusually excellent family of which he is a member, is any criterion of judgment for him, then he is worthy of a good deal of confidence. At present he is entitled to our sympathy as well as congratulation, owing to the recent death of his mother, to whom he was devotedly attached. A letter that I have just received from an acquaintance, will perhaps give as good an idea of what his friends think of him as anything else. The writer: "Our estimable friend, Charles P. Thompson, has been elected to the City Council. It is a great pleasure to me, Republican as I am, to be beaten, even though it be in every State in the Union, if so be Ben Butler is between the anvil and the hammer, and then Charles is such a genial, loving, whole-hearted soul, I was replete in ecstasies when first the thing was written, and in my delirium of joy I telegraphed to the first line of the Long Meter Doxology to him, and wound up the day by writing him an incoherent letter." My friend says that he received a reply to this letter from Mr. Thompson, and that "the second part of the letter was of his departed mother than of his political success. If there ever was a true son, he is one."

The Distillation of Brandy.
WASHINGTON, November 23d.—Congressman Page of California has had several interviews with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue with a view of having, with the Commissioner's aid, a law passed for the relief of distillers of brandy who do only a small business. Under the existing laws the capacity of the still is taxed without reference to the quantity of brandy distilled. A still with a capacity of two hundred gallons is taxed eighty per cent, and that must be paid although the quantity actually distilled may not exceed twenty-five gallons. The change recommended is to tax only the quantities distilled. Mr. Douglas, the Commissioner is opposed to any change in the law, but Mr. Page will introduce a bill early in the coming session to carry out his proposition.

The Texas Pacific Railroad.
WASHINGTON, November 24th.—Col. Thos. A. Scott has announced his purpose to come to Congress next session and ask aid for the Texas Pacific Railroad. He wants seventy millions to complete the road. This he proposes to raise on forty-year bonds, the interest on which at five per cent, he proposes to pay to Congress to guarantee. To secure the Government, he proposes to turn over the land grants, the machinery, the track and the rolling stock and appurtenances, and to issue bonds only as fast as the road is completed. The sections, at the rate of $30,000 per mile for the plans, and $10,000 for the heavy grading. Scott is confident that he will never ask the Government to pay a cent. It is proposed to pay interest for the four years out of the proceeds of the bonds.

Patent Issued.
WASHINGTON, November 24th.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office to-day issued a patent for the Rancho San Bernardino, containing 17,683 acres in San Diego county, California. Maria A. Snook confirms.

The Pacific Mail Reducing Expenses and Increasing Shipping Facilities.

NEW YORK, November 23d.—The Managing Director of the Pacific Mail Company claims that the entire line from New York to China is now in the most perfect order, and they are prepared and ready to do promptly all business that is offered. He also claims that the business of the company can be managed as efficiently and economically as any steamship line in the world, and to this end a reduction of from 30 to 50 per cent, is to be made after January 1st on all salaries and expenses of the company. Mr. Hatch setting the example by reducing his own salary from six thousand to three thousand dollars. After the departure of the new steamer City of Tokio, about the middle of December, he will visit San Francisco with a view to making a general reduction of the company's expenses at that port and also at other points on the coast. The reduction he has already effected on his recent visit to the Isthmus, it is estimated, will benefit the Pacific Mail Company to the extent of $1,000,000. The reduction of the number of Italian laborers on the Isthmus, of which 1,000 were employed on the Panama road, has been a great success and a great benefit to the company. The Managing Director has also said that hereafter no more freight will be received by the company than they can handle promptly at the Isthmus, and that hereafter there will be no accumulation of cargo at that port, as has been the case heretofore, and in order to accomplish this an increase of tonnage on the Pacific side has been determined upon and the iron steamship City of Panama will be dispatched to Panama to take her place in the regular line at an early day, and the Atlantic side, in addition to the present vessels as may be necessary until the completion of their new vessels, now being built, by John Roach at Chester. Several other reforms are contemplated.

A comparative statement of the amount of freight and number of passengers carried by the company from this port during the month of October shows an increase of 1,129 passengers and 1,350 tons of freight over the same month last year.

The Troubles of Architect Mullett.

CHICAGO, November 24th.—A Washington special, speaking of the resignation of Architect Mullett, says that every effort was made to-day to induce the President to interfere to save him, for although Mullett apologized to Bristow for his language to him on Saturday, the latter insisted on accepting his resignation. Both Sullivan and Mullett visited the President during the day, as did also Treasurer Spinner and others; but it appears without result. It is declared that the President did not want to interfere with the reforms which Secretary Bristow had made in the Treasury Department, and especially with any disagreement as to the management of affairs in the Bureau of the Supervising Architect. Had the President interfered, it is well understood he would have undoubtedly received Bristow's resignation without a moment's delay. So, altogether, there was at the time to-day a promise of a very considerable storm.
